Lomita Theatre's Grand Opening Set for Tonight

Free Vaudeville and Western Coast Premiere of Big Pictures are Features

A big feature program, supplemented by a free vaudeville show, will mark the opening tonight of the Lomita Theatre under Standard Theatre management. The new management has selected Laura La Plante's super-film, "Beware of Widows" for the opening night and for Friday. The showing at the Lomita Theatre will be the western coast premiere of the film. Two shows are to be given nightly at 7 and 8:45. Tonight, before each show, song numbers and musical specialties will be offered by a vaudeville trio at the front of the theater. This added attraction will be free. "Pictures shown in this theatre are first run in this district" is the slogan of the Lomita Theatre's new management, and they have carried out their policy in the first week's program.

Among the features scheduled for the next few days are "Prisoners of the Storm" starring Herbert Powers, on Saturday; Reginald Denney's hilarious comedy, "The Cheerful Fraud", on Sunday and Monday, and a big double show Tuesday and Wednesday—"The Perch of the Devil", featuring Pat O'Malley and Mae Busch, and "Jim Hood's Ghost," a Josie Sedgwick Western.

Test Shows Water in Good Condition

Sample of water were collected from eight different points in the Torrance city water system on July 14 by the county department of health for analysis. The report of the analysis is contained in a communication to Herbert A. Jewett, Sanitary and Food Officer, to Vice President Donald Findley of the Torrance Water Company as follows:

Sample No. 1 from 650 Columbia Court, B. Coli presumptive index 0.0, plate count 56 colonies bacteria per c.c.; sample No. 2 from 1401 Borwick Avenue, B. Coli presumptive index 0.0, plate count 133 colonies bacteria per c.c.; sample No. 3, from tap at Union Tool Company, B. Coli presumptive index 0.0, plate count 24 colonies bacteria per c.c.; sample No. 4 from 1866 Plaza Del Amo, B. Coli presumptive index 0.0, plate count 120 colonies bacteria per c.c.; sample No. 5, from 2015 Gramercy street, B. Coli presumptive index 0.0, plate count 63 colonies bacteria per c.c.; sample No. 6 from 1512 Post Avenue, B. Coli presumptive index 0.0, plate count 180 colonies bacteria per c.c.; sample No. 7 from Booster Pump, Carson Street, B. Coli presumptive index 0.06, plate count 82 colonies bacteria per c.c.; sample No. 8 from Torrance Reservoir, B. Coli presumptive index 0.0, plate count 37 colonies bacteria per c.c.

"I am very glad to get such a good report on these water samples," Mr. Jewett wrote. "Only one of them had any Coli present, and that was in such a small amount that the water would be considered safe for drinking purposes."

Mr. Findley announced that the water mains have been flushed regularly for some time, and that the flushing is to be continued weekly.

Reo Carries Palms to Palm Springs

O. S. McKinney and his Reo Speed Wagon have a unique job. If they were in Pennsylvania they would be carrying coals to Newcastle. Inasmuch as they are in California they are engaged in hauling palms to Palm Springs.

McKinney is capitalizing on the boom which has struck this desert resort in the past couple of years. He has seen the homes of wealthy people going up and know that they would require trees and shrubs which would be in keeping with the surrounding desert scenery. So he started a nursery. All he had was his Reo Speed Wagon and an idea.

He made the rounds of the resort and found that people wanted palm trees, giant cactus plants, etc. in their yards, but the varieties were not plentiful. McKinney, knowing the desert, agreed to go and get the desired plants. He treks as far as Arizona for some specimens. Others he finds down in the Imperial Valley. And when he finds them he hitches them to his Speed Wagon, hauls them out by the roots, and takes them to Palm Springs.

"It sounds simple," McKinney says, "but sometimes I have to go miles off the roads, breaking trail through sage and mesquite. It takes a good truck to stand the 'guff' but the Reo hasn't failed me yet."

Deer Hunters Take Warning

The new deer law requires that every hunter of deer secure deer tags. Each tag costs $1.00 and each hunter must have two tags.

It is required that as soon as one kills a deer a tag, properly filled out must be tied on the horns, and the duplicate mailed to the Fish and Game Commission. These tags must be countersigned by the State Game Warden or any other person entitled to administer oaths, i. e., notary publics, justices of the peace, etc. When tags are properly countersigned, the hunter may transport deer from open to closed districts.

The first hunters to fall afoul of the new law were Messrs. McFadden of Redondo Beach and Jeanerette of Whittier, who were apprehended in the mountains near Ventura. They appeared in the court at Camarillo and were fined $50 each.
